

Respecting Our Classmates Belongings

In our classroom, everyone has their own things, like books, pencils, and art supplies. These items are special to each of us.

Asking Permission If I see something that belongs to a classmate and I want to use it, I can ask first.

If I Make a Mistake If I accidentally touch or take something without asking, I can say:

- “I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to.”
- Then, I can return it to my friend.

When we respect each other's belongings, we create a caring and friendly classroom. Let's all work together to show respect and kindness!

Good job!
